

BOARD BLAMES COMMANDERS FOR S-4 SINKING

Chief Officers of Sunken Submarine and Destroyer Held Equally Responsible for Disaster.

BRUMBY CRITICIZED FOR RESCUE WORK

Investigation Revealed Navy Lacked Equipment To Save 40 Entombed in Sunken Craft.

Washington, February 21.—(United News)—Responsibility for the collision between the S-4 and the coast guard destroyer Paulding off Provincetown, Mass., last December was placed jointly on the commanders of both craft in the report of the special naval court of inquiry made public tonight.

The court also held that Rear Admiral Frank H. Brumby, who directed operations to rescue the 40 who were lost in the sunken submarine should be removed from command of the control forces because of his lack of knowledge of submarines and rescue work. Secretary of the Navy Wilbur has ordered the court to reconvene because he believed it had not given sufficient reason to support this finding.

Commanders Are Blamed.

In fixing responsibility for the crash the court finds that "the commanding officer of the S-4, the late Lieutenant Commander R. K. Jones, and the commanding officer of the coast guard destroyer Paulding, Lieutenant Commander John S. Baylis, are jointly responsible for the collision between the Paulding and the S-4 and that serious blame incurred to them."

A strong arraignment of Brumby is based on the statement that "he failed to contribute that superior and intelligent guidance, force and sound judgment expected from an officer of his length of service, experience and position."

The report adds: "The court, therefore, recommends that Rear Admiral Brumby be detached from command of the control forces." Brumby is now with the control force in the Canal Zone.

Brumby Also Criticized.

Testimony which Brumby gave before the court, the report said, "showed that he had not the familiarity with the essential details of construction of submarines and the knowledge

LACK OF GASOLINE FORCES FORD Flier DOWN NEAR GOAL

Titusville, Fla., February 21.—(AP)—Harry Brooks, flying a Ford "Silver" plane from Detroit to Miami on an attempted nonstop flight, was forced down here tonight by a lack of fuel.

Brooks was within 200 miles of his goal, when his 52 gallons of gasoline, which he left Detroit with, became depleted. The pilot looked after his plane and immediately went to bed at a hotel, tired from the long grind in the air.

"I set a record anyhow," he remarked when speaking of his disappointment at not reaching his goal. "Of course, we will try it again and we will make it."

BELIEVE FILER SET NEW RECORD.

Detroit, February 21.—(AP)—In flying to Titusville, Fla., from Detroit, an altitude slightly more than 900 miles in his Ford plane, Harry Brooks is believed by officials of the National Aeronautical association, under whose supervision the flight was undertaken, to have broken the world's nonstop record for planes of 40-horsepower or less.

One Dead, 1 Dying In Auto Accident Near Barnesville

J. J. Howald, of Evans-

Injured Couple Brought

Unconscious.

Hobart H. Muir, of Atlanta, is dying and his wife is in a critical condition in Wesley Memorial hospital, where they were brought Tuesday
following an accident near Barnesville, Ga., in which Mr. Muir's father-in-law, J. J. Howald, of Evanston, was killed.

Mr. Howald was thrown from the rear seat against the front of the top, dying in less than five minutes.
Mr. Muir sustained three broken ribs, a broken knee cap, head bruises and probable internal injuries, while Mrs.
Muir received a serious scalp wound.
Doctors at Wesley Memorial hospital were doubtful if Mr. Muir will recover and Mrs. Muir had not regained consciousness late Tuesday night.

Reports from Barnesville said that as the car driven by Muir approached the city limits from Atlanta a rear tire blew out, causing the driver to lose control, and the car hit one of the animals, and then into a telegraph post on the opposite side of the road.

Mr. Muir is district manager of the Ludlow Typograph company with offices in the Palmer building. He was transferred here from Chicago
January 6.

The body of Mr. Howald was being held by a Barnesville undertaking establishment, awaiting advice from the S-4 and that serious blame incurred to them."

GATLIN DEFENDERS LIKEN EVANGELIST TO JUDAS ISCARIOT

Defense Lawyers Denounce Pastor in Final Plea for Acquittal; Jury Gets Case Today.

Wentworth, N. C., February 21.—(AP)—
The Rev. Thomas F. Pardue, who made himself a central figure in the trial of Mrs. Alma Petty Gatlin for the murder of her father, received the brunt of defense attorney's attacks during final arguments today.

Pardue brought about Mrs. Gatlin's acquittal for the murder when he told the jury that the woman had confessed to him that she killed her father. Smith T. Petty, with an ax and buried the body in the basement of the house occupied by the Petlys at the time.

Pardue brought about Mrs. Gatlin's acquittal for the murder when he told the jury that the woman had confessed to him that she killed her father. Smith T. Petty, with an ax and buried the body in the basement of the house occupied by the Petlys at the time.

Perry T. Stiers, senior defense counsel, who delivered the only argument at the afternoon session of court, contrasted the evangelist with Judas Iscariot.

"Judas Iscariot betrayed his Master, but, ashamed of the act, he went out and hung himself," Stiers shouted. "Thomas F. Pardue betrayed the confidence of this penitent girl, but he did not hang himself as he ought to have done. Instead, he has prosecuted her, doted and done everything within his power to send her to the electric chair."

Quoted Old English Laws.

Stiers quoted old English laws which said that a confession made under stress of religious fervor was incompetent. He cited several decisions in support of his argument.

The incompetence of a confession offered as evidence on the defense was one of the defense's bases in its case.

The other point is the direct assertion that Mrs. Smith T. Petty, mother of the defendant, killed her daughter, Mrs. Gatlin, because she witnessed the slaying.

Mrs. Gatlin explained the "confession" by saying she told the minister of the murder, leaving him with the assumption that she had done the slay-ing, to learn her mother's chances of salvation.

Prosecutor Defends Rector.

Allen H. Gwyn, arguing for the prosecution, defended "Thunderbolt Tom" from defense attacks.

The attorney said he "felt sorry" for Woodrow Petty, the defendant's brother, when he repeated Mrs. Gatlin's testimony in detail.

"In the face of all this tragedy, the boy never mentioned the fact that he had killed his father until he told his counsel after his sister's incarceration," Gwyn said. "The boy actually dotted every 'I' and crossed every 'T'."

No night session was held Tuesday night. Arguments of the two remaining attorneys to the jury, which had been adjourned after which Judge Cameron McRae will charge the jury. The jury probably will retire late Wednesday afternoon.

REED 'DENOUNCES'

G. O. P. HIGH TARIFF

Missouri Senator, Hunting Votes in West, Places Responsibility of Farm Plight on Republicans.

Tulsa, Okla., February 21.—(AP)—
The republican protective tariff law was blamed for the ills of the farmers by Senator Reed, of Missouri, tonight in the second prepared address of his western democratic presidential campaign.

"If the farmer could buy on the same price level upon which he must sell," Senator Reed declared, "he would have an even chance in the race of life. But the manufacturers, chiefly of the east, were determined to deny him that natural right."

Reed Wins War on Fraud.

Renewing the war on "corruption in government," which he declared last night in Texas, the Missourian insisted the present tariff act was enacted in response to "the vast sum of money put up by these manufacturers to elect the republican ticket."

Because of the tariff he argued that the farmer was compelled to sell upon the European level "and then buy upon a level which had been artificially raised."

BORAH SEEKS RULE ON SEA ARMAMENT

Washington, February 21.—(P)—Under a resolution introduced today by Chairman Borah, of the foreign relations committee, the senate would express its belief that the leading maritime powers of the world owe it to the cause of the limitation of armaments and of the orderly conduct of international relations" that the rules of law as developed in the course of centuries be not left in doubt or uncertainty.

Senator Borah, who will seek early action on his resolution, expects little opposition to its approval both in the committee and by the senate. The resolution would have no binding effect, being only a statement of an express of view by the treaty confirming power of the United States.

It must seek honest convictions upon every question he expresses in every congressional district and in every state in the union.

"The national democracy will mark the course of the party; and let us have faith to believe that it will distinguish itself from the other parties in its stand upon which all true believers in liberal government may stand. In the ancient camp of democracy there is ground upon which to pitch our tents and to marshal and mobilize our forces against the common enemy."

ally boosted by a tariff law and by combinations back of that law."

The militant Missourian found a fertile field here to preach the gospel of party harmony to which he pledged his campaign in the west. He took cognizance of the fact that the Republicans had been successful in this state but said he knew "nothing of the merits of these controversies."

Class Materialism.

"Class materialism, in government and in society, is rampant. Despite the influence of the honest men and women who composed the rank and file of the republican party and notwithstanding the high purpose of many patriotic republican leaders whose voices were raised in ineffectual protest, with Harding came a breed of public officials who were recorded high in their positions as a private snap, and the public domain itself as the subject of graft and plunder."

With no reference to prohibition in his prepared speech, the senator was asked about that subject here today by a newspaperman, and he replied in measured words that "Democrats have bigger fish to fry than prohibition."

HUNT AUTO ASCLUE TO 'FIRE' SLAYERS

Somerville, N. J., February 21.—(AP)—Police tonight were seeking a sedan car which is believed to be connected with the death of an unidentified and apparently cultured woman of about 33, who was burned fatally after her garments had been saturated with oil and ignited, her body, in flames was found last night near here.

The woman's body was brought to the Somerville County hospital where an autopsy was ordered in an attempt to ascertain whether the victim had been slain and then set afire.

It is the theory of police that the woman was taken in the automobile to the woods where she was either dragged or struck over the head and her clothes were oiled and set on fire. The sedan was seen in the vicinity twice last night.

Woman's Body in Flames.

Flames coming from the woman's body was first seen by Joseph Cooper, who sent in a fire alarm. Two other men passed by soon after and found the victim lying on her back. They discovered small pools of gasoline all around the body. They extinguished the flames with snow and then left to inform police.

When the police chief arrived he found the woman's body in flames again, a spark apparently having been left. The woman died a short time later in a hospital at Morris- town.

Cloudy and Rain, No Mercury Drop, Weather Forecast

Increasing cloudiness, followed by light rains during the afternoon and continuing through Thursday, is predicted for Atlanta today and Thursday, according to C. F. von Herrmann, local official meteorologist.

The temperatures today are not expected to vary materially from yesterday. Tuesday night, the high mark of 36 and 55 degrees, respectively, were recorded. The temperatures during the remainder of the week are expected to rise slightly.

Although rain is predicted for late today and Thursday, it will be followed by clear weather but there is no cold in sight, according to Mr. von Herrmann.

BUFORD TANNERY IS BEING REBUILT

Buford, Ga., February 21.—(Special)—The tannery division of the company of Bona Allen, Inc., destroyed by fire early this year, is being rebuilt on a larger and more modern scale. W. L. Caldwell, contractor, of Atlanta, who has secured the job of rebuilding, announces that the new unit will be a three-story brick structure and will contain cement floors, making the building practical. Completed, it will be 150x300 feet when fully equipped for the tanning of shoe leather will represent over a quarter of a million dollar investment.

WIFE OF DRUGGIST ACCUSES HICKMAN

WAR ON PINK BOLL BACKED AT PARLEY

Los Angeles, February 21.—(AP)—William E. Hickman and his youthful pal in crime, Welby Hunt, were identified as the masterminds of the robbery of Mrs. C. Ivy Toms as the robbers who entered the Toms Drug store here a year ago Christmas eve, fled after a spray of bullets brought death to the proprietor.

The 20-year-old Hickman, who is under death sentence for the killing of Marian Parker, did not seem perturbed as the widow, her eyes filled with tears and her voice shaking with emotion, testified in low tones. Two weeks before he had faced Perry M. Parker, father of Marian, in the same courtroom and heard himself branded as a slayer.

Masks Covered Faces.

Mrs. Toms told how the boys, their faces covered with Santa Claus masks, forced her husband back of the prescription counter at the point of their revolvers. Unknown to the would-be robbers, a patrolman had preceded them into the store and was behind a counter when Toms was being held up.

The officer reached for his gun and Hickman, the witness said, cried out to Hickman, "Get his gun!" Hickman, however, began firing while Hunt covered her with his weapon. During the firing, Mrs. Toms said her husband slumped to the floor, fatally wounded. She did not know which of the youths had fired the fatal shot.

Defense and state attorneys today agreed to accept certain parts of testimony introduced during Hickman's recent sanity trial in the Parker case. Court adjourned until Thursday.

CAROLINA SEEKS RETURN OF FLAG TAKEN BY YANKS

Washington, February 21.—(AP)—A request for a Confederate flag supposed to have been taken by General Sherman's army when it marched through Raleigh, N. C., and the return of the sword of Captain Ashe, of the Confederate artillery, reported to have been delivered to General Halleck's adjutant general, has been made to the war department by North Carolina congressman.

Scratches of records failed to reveal the location of either and Secretary Davis has been unable therefore to meet the request.

STATE WORKING ON MOTOR BUS CONTROL PLANS

The state public service commission

Tuesday announced that a plan will be worked out in a few days under which the state will have general jurisdiction over the operation of motor bus lines in the state acquired in a recent order of the commission, according to James A. Perry, chairman.

Several of the leading companies Tuesday filed detailed schedules and rates with the commission to register in the recent order. The commission will study these rates and schedules and will call a conference soon to work out definite plans for the operation of the lines under the jurisdiction of the commission as soon as possible.

BUFORD HIGHWAY TO LAWRENCEVILLE TO BE PAVED SOON

Buford, Ga., February 21.—(Special)—Work of grading and straightening state highway No. 13 is rapidly progressing between Lawrenceville and Buford and the county commissioners hope to have ready to pave this stretch of 12 miles in the spring, according to a recent statement of the highway from Lawrenceville to Atlanta and from Buford to Gainesville has already been completed and with the completion of the paving between Buford and Lawrenceville will mean that a stretch of paving from Atlanta to Gainesville, a distance of 54 miles, will be of modern hard surface construction.

RADIO REPULSES EFFORTS TO ROB NORTHERN HOUSE

Butler, Pa., February 21.—(AP)—The radio may now be classed as a burglar alarm.

A burglar entered the home of L. F. Shaffer, here, while the family was asleep and while exploring for valuable articles.

The radio turned into action and loud strains of music from Shaffer's room caused the burglar to drop out at the instant that Mr. Shaffer had been subjected to attacks of apoplexy.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaffer came to Atlanta last December from Bethany, Mo., to make their home with their daughter, Mrs. H. A. Wyckoff, at 803 Argonne avenue, Tuesday morning, died from a stroke of apoplexy, it was decided by a coroner's jury at an inquest held Tuesday afternoon at the home by Coroner Paul Donehue. It was learned that Shaffer had been staying out at the instant that Mr. Shaffer had been subjected to attacks of apoplexy.

In addition to his wife and daughter, Mr. Shaffer was survived by another daughter, Mrs. W. L. James; a sister, Mrs. Mary Durgin, and a brother, E. H. Shaffer.

CORONER DECIDES APOPLEXY CAUSED DOPKINS' DEATH

C. J. Dopkins, 68, who was found

Many Atlantans visited Canada last fall on a tour which ended the group which will reach here Monday will be in the nature of repaying the visit, Mayor Ragsdale said.

"We must live up to the reputation which Atlantans established on that tour, and do something to show our appreciation for the wonderful treatment accorded us at that time," he stated.

No details of the destination of the caravan were carried in the message.

NEW RATES HIT PEACH SHIPPERS

An increase in freight rates to Georgia peach shippers of about $150,000 instead of a decrease of about $565,000 annually as was reported by Henry A. Brown, of Fort Valley and Washington, who has been active on behalf of the shippers, was indicated on receipt in Atlanta Tuesday of the actual order of the interstate commerce commission affecting the new line of rates.

Mr. Brown said Tuesday that his figures showing reductions were based on reports of the order, rather than on the order itself.

An analysis of the commission's order is being made, and figures are being compiled to show the distribution of the peach crop. Against these figures will be shown the new rates, the current charges and the new charges and the results in decreases and increases will be shown in actual figures. This compilation is expected to be finished later this week.

Rates per 100 pounds to New York and other points were reduced but these reductions were more than overcome by increased rates to Chicago and the other mid-western cities.

An increased weight allowance per crate also enters the consideration. Under the old schedule a crate was filled with 100 pounds while it is to be figured on the basis of 51 pounds per crate under the new schedule.

The old rate for a car from, say, Fort Valley to New York was $249, a car being a load of 476 crates. The new rate for the same number of crates in a car is $247.62, it was pointed out, thus effecting a saving to shippers of nine cents per crate. It does not take into consideration that an increase of nine pounds per crate is effective under the new schedule, and therefore a car that formerly carried only 20,000 pounds will now carry 24,276 pounds thus making the new scale produce but small reduction.

RADIO CORPORATION DENIES ALLEGATION IT IS TRUST COMBINE

Washington, February 21.—(AP)—The senate committee on patents was informed today by attorneys for the Radio Corporation of America that the corporation owns only two of 700 broadcasting stations in the United States. The charges of "monopoly of the radio" made against it recently before the committee were the result of "jealousy."

Manton Davis, general attorney for the Radio Corporation of America, said that radio companies who are parties to the original cross license agreements own only ten broadcasting stations and suggested that the committee, which manufactures of radio sets operating under corporation licenses as to whether or not they would be able to pay license fees under the proposed Dill bill, which provides forfeiture of patents on conviction of anti-trust laws.

VOTERS 'WARNED' TO DEFEAT SMITH

TWO MEN ARE HELD FOR DRIVING CARS WHILE INTOXICATED

L. Whitley, of 94 Piedmont avenue, drove his automobile into two parked cars on East Hunter street, and then was chased out Hunter street to Grant street by J. R. Patilla, according to Call Officers J. C. Jones and L. P. Higgins. Whitley was arrested on charges of operating an automobile while drunk, and reckless driving, according to the report. One of the parked machines was the property of J. M. Cone, of 64 Spring street, while the name of the other car's owner was not learned.

D. T. Hawkins, of 942 Peachtree street, was arrested on charges of drunkenness while driving an automobile Tuesday afternoon, according to report. Officers Morgan and Petchek. The officers stated that Dr. Hawkins ran into the rear left fender of their car at Peachtree and Sixth streets, and that Dr. Hawkins claimed that a Georgia Power company welding machine on the street car tracks was responsible for the crash.

Glenn, who was placed on the ticket by the Lowden-Deneen faction of the republican party as a senatorial candidate, opened his campaign with a bitter attack on Smith. He appealed to the voters to defeat Smith or "the welfare of the state would be sacrificed." He classed Smith's candidacy for the senate as an attempt to sacrifice the state's welfare in the name of one person."

Glenn declared it would be futile for Smith to attempt admittance to the senate, if elected, pointing to the fact that he was rejected after being elected once and appointed twice before. Then Glenn turned his oratorical guns on the Governor Small administration.

"I am certain no ill will or malice against Governor Small," he declared, "but my opposition to his political ideas and governmental practices continues unchanged, strengthened and verified by the passing years. I am more confirmed than ever in my judgment that no state ever had a worse administration."

WASHINGTON AND AMERICA.

On this anniversary of the birth of George Washington, a national holiday, and one that inspires and impels a new consecration to the ideals and institutions of a free and independent government, bought with the blood of patriots, it is fitting that a review of the life and works of this great American be made in every home and before every group.

History presents us with few characters so worthy of admiration and esteem. It presents us with few lives—despite detractors who, in the early days of the nineteenth century, published so-called intimate cameos that were manifestly fictitious—so worthy of emulation.

Outstanding among the errors and absurdities of so-called historians are those in the "Life of George Washington," written by Rev. Mason L. Weems and published the year after the death of the "Father of His Country."

No one, not even so great and powerful a man as Washington, could entirely live down in history the reputation of a goody-goody prig with which the well-meaning but over-zealous Scotch divine smothered him.

The cherry tree story—fiction of the whole cloth—has had but few rivals in publicity, and has done the memory of this great man of red blood and unflagging courage more harm than good.

Fortunately, as the generations have come and gone, the real Washington—the Washington who was the leading figure of thought and judgment in the Continental congress, who led with spirit and masterful generalship the army of the revolution, who guided the building of the tenets of faith in a new governmental structure—the federal constitution—who for two terms served as the first president of the United States—

Fortunately, the real Washington has stood out stronger and greater as a warrior, as an executive, as a constructionist, as a patriot, as a man as a force in moral leadership—as the years have passed.

In generations yet unborn he will grow rather than shrink in universal appraise.

The mental gifts of George Washington were not of the dazzling kind. His talents were not over-brilliant. And yet his good judgment, founded upon an inborn wisdom, was forceful and appealing. He was not an orator, like Patrick Henry, who labored with him for a repeal of the iniquitous stamp act. He was not as dashing and as impulsive as either John Hancock or Samuel Adams. And yet both of them, during the intense stress and the excitement of the proceedings of the Continental congress, turned to Washington for his thoughtful advice and deliberate conclusions, and Adams from the floor declared the quiet, almost silent leader "the unerring son of Westmoreland"—George Washington having been born in Westmoreland county on February 22, 1732.

This was in September, 1774. All of the colonies were represented at the time except Georgia. The people of this state were in deep sympathy with the congress, but their royal governor prevented the appointment of delegates.

Washington was a man of unusual power because his traits of character were so finely proportioned and adjusted and so firmly controlled by a heroic will and fine moral faculty. He could withstand alike disaster and obloquy. He could reflect the promptings of ambition. He was unmoved by but one aspiration—to promote the good government of his country and the happiness and prosperity of the people. He well deserved the noble title that will go with his name throughout the expanse of human history.

Just a word about the origin of Washington, his personal life, and his career as a soldier, a statesman, and as an executive—

He was the grandson of John Washington, who emigrated in 1659 from Northamptonshire, England, where the family had been of high social and financial standing. His grandfather acquired great land holdings along the Potomac, and high social and public position. The ancestral home was inherited by Augustine Washington, who was the father of George and five other children. George Washington became interested in surveying and while a mere lad surveyed the great Fairfax estates. He later surveyed the proposed canal route between St. Marys, Georgia, via St. Marks, Florida, and to the Mississippi river. In time he inherited the great Mount Vernon estate from an older brother. He became active in colonial military life and was quickly promoted to colonel.

When orders came from the British crown that any English field officer should be superior to a colonial officer, even of higher rank, Colonel Washington took the issue direct to General Shirley, the commander-in-chief, and won.

After his military career as a colonial officer he was elected to the house of Burgesses of Virginia. In 1755 he married Mrs. Martha Custis, the wealthiest widow in Virginia, and for several years lived quietly as a great planter at his home overlooking the Potomac, and the marsh lands of the great capital city which now bears his name.

In 1773 he again became active in public affairs as a member of the Williamsburg convention, which asserted the right of the colonies to self-government. He then declared the cardinal principle that taxation and representation could not be justly separated. He was quiet in speech but fiery in the written word.

While the Boston port bill was under discussion the wealthy Potowmac planter listened to the accounts of British oppression of the people of that city because of the stand they had bravely taken for a conservation of their own rights. With his face aflame with righteous wrath, he calmly addressed his colleagues with these few but significant words: "I will raise a thousand men, subdivide them at my own expense, and march them to the relief of Boston." Patrick Henry with emotion declared him the "greatest man" on the floor of the convention.

Weeping
Juries.

There is considerable dissatisfaction in Vienna with the jury system. "Juries" says the "Wiener Neueste Nachrichten" "at the mercy of the unscrupulous eloquence and the wily tricks of trial lawyers." The chief objection seems to be that juries are too tenderhearted. A Viennese jury listening to a murder case recently wept when the lawyers told of the terrible disfigurement of the victim. When the prosecutor declared that the children had been foully killed because of their refusal to carry out their fathers inhuman demands. The defending lawyer spoke once more, and the jury freed the father after weeping. *

Prison
Editors.

The arrest of M. Joseph Delest, manager of the French royalist paper, "Action Francaise," who had escaped from the Sante prison without leaving the country, recalls the panic which managers of political papers must play. Whether the manager writes a line for publication or not, he is responsible for everything that appears in the paper, and in the event of a criminal libel, the editor is liable to prison. Papers which agitate militarily against the constituted powers consequently select a responsible manager who would not object to a sojourn in prison for the cause. Revolutionary papers usually have with them a "code of ethics" which says, "Any man who goes to prison if the authorities decide to do anything punishing. Being only a dummy editor, the real editors are free to go with their work. M. Delest is the equivalent of a "prison editor," although in view of the telephone hoax at the Sante prison he might more properly have been called an "out-of-prison editor."

Incident at the Salon.

The Salon of the independent artists, gentlemen and ladies who recognize no official school and who do not submit their work to any jury, is open to all. Among the most popular and happy of one of the exhibitors, M. Kotchar, M. Kotchar has entered two statues this year. They are in the section of paintings, because the statues are of painted wood. The first day one of his statues that was painted red was removed by a nude woman, who was wearing a mask. The next day another "mother" did the same. * * *

Some Very Interesting facts.

Any one reading the Snyder article in "Plain Talk" would become obsessed with the conviction that there has been a large-scale and decimating migration of negroes from the south to the north in recent years.

But what are the cold facts?

Mr. Snyder says "a crowd so vast that it constitutes 35 per cent of our black population" has gotten started northward—who knows where it will go?

He does not tell us how he gets that amazing percentage. If it is a true estimate, it means that 3,000,000 negroes in 32 southern states have "gotten started northward!"

The census reports covering 1910 to 1920, which period included all the censuses and population shiftings of the world war era, show that in

1910 Stanton Sings

(IN MEMORY OF FRANK L. STANTON.)

The mockingbird pauses silent.

The little linnet and the lowly wren

Cease all their twittering.

The sooty lark.

His measure still unspent,

Withholds the golden note,

Outpouring from his throat.

As he would bark,

Song louder than his own

Clearing the firmament.

The skyler knows that song

(For Stanton sings)

Uprising like a bar.

He is bold and brave and strong,

As he does.

Low where the daisies are

And meadow sweet and camomile grow.

And even weeds,

Midst grape and fruitage for our human needs,

That song

The singers of the mead and woodland know.

No thing on wings

Singeth more truly than our Stanton sings.

He sings as sing the birds.

He fiteth to his measure human words

That thrill with man's heartbeat.

He sings of love, hope, not of defeat.

He sings of life, let not despair.

He sings of patience sweet has trod.

It bears man's purpose to the heart of God.

Dear Stanton of the daisies and the stars,

Sweet meadow, the sun and the wreath,

We miss you.

In the clauer of the sun,

We wait and have till you sing again—

GOVERNOR TO DENY STEPHENSON PLEA

Indianapolis, February 21.—(P)—A petition filed today with Governor Ed Jackson by attorneys for D. C. Stephenson seeking to have the former Ku Klux Klan drag transferred from the Michigan City state prison to the state reformatory will not be approved, the governor indicated late today.

Governor Jackson, however, said he had not decided whether to refer the petition to the prison board of trustees for action or place it in his files with no respect of action. The transfer of Stephenson, who is serving a life term for the murder of an Indianapolis girl, would be a violation of the law, the governor pointed out. Under the law no prisoner over 30

CONFERENCE HALL IN HAVANA SILENT

Havana, February 21.—(P)—The great hall of the University of Havana stood deserted today and silence reigned through the building of the school of law and the school of engineers, scenes for the past five weeks of harangue, debate, pleading and conciliation of the sixth Pan-American conference which passed into history yesterday.

Only the click of typewriters, the drone of mimeograph machines, and the intonations of translators and interpreters of four languages gave evidence that the conference secretariat still was concerned with the activities of the late assembly of the 21 American republics. Silence reigned in committee rooms and the “audimania”—but until yesterday scenes of debate among America's greatest statesmen.

Five Delegates Remain.

Whether D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon, would be asked to submit a sworn statement regarding the Klan had not been definitely determined by Gilliom. He said he did not know who would care for Stephenson's testimony. Stephenson is serving a life sentence for the murder of an Indianapolis girl.

Charles J. Orbison, Indianapolis, who represented the Klan at Monday's hearing, said today the defense would make its first step on March 5, when it will argue on a demurral to the suit.

NEW DEPOSITIONS SOUGHT IN KLAN OUSTER.

Indianapolis, Ind., February 21.—(P)—Arthur L. Gilliom, attorney general, today said he expected to obtain new depositions from at least a dozen Klan leaders in the Ku Klux Klan to use in support of his suit to the secret order from Indiana.

The attorney declined to name the men from whom he expected to get further information. Hugh F. (Pat) Emmous, South Bend, formerly exalted cyclops of the Klan in St. Joseph county, testified for eight hours yesterday in Gilliom's office, reading sensational charges against the Klan.

WASHINGTON'S DIARY REVEALS GEORGIA VISIT

Purisburg, 22 miles to breakfast. At that place I was met by Messrs. Jones, Mr. Johnson, Mr. Gandy, Mr. Gandy, Mr. Mottram, and Mr. Clay, a comee from the city of Savannah to conduct me thither.—Boats also were ordered there by them for my accommodation: among which a handsome sloop-barge named “S. American” was attached to my boat. The River I called upon Mrs. Green, the Widow of the deceased Gend. Green (at a place called Mulberry Grove). I asked her how she did.—

“A disastrous thing happened here,” he said. “Breakfast in a court trial, he was here, and he clearly referred to the action of the respondents. He broke down because there was surveillance of the jury.”

As each of the four men found guilty by the court was called up for sentence he was asked by the justices whether he had anything to say for himself. W. Sherman Burns, the first to be sentenced, was asked to say for himself but told the court that if there was mercy to be meted out he hoped the court would give it to his father, founder of the Burns International Detective agency, who several years ago was head of the department of justice's bureau of investigation.

The court said he was imposing a lenient fine for young men because he, whilst the district attorney in investigating the shadowing of the Fall-Sinclair jury.

Justice Sudds told Gay, who hired the Burns men for Sinclair, that he had “showed loyalty to a friend (Sinclair) greater than loyalty to the land,” but that he had violated the law. That loyalty, he had added, made a stern duty unpleasant, but in sentencing him he was taking into consideration with a degree of admiration.

“We will not attempt to hold any meeting until Mr. Neely makes his committee report in compliance with the resolution passed by city council, Mr. McCutcheon said.

Councilman Edward C. McCutcheon, on the second ward, chairman of the conference committee of city council, stated Tuesday night that a joint meeting of the conference and the bond commission will be held at the Atlanta bond commission, to complete the units without slashing about $71,000 in addition from the contemplated plans would be removed if the fund were provided.

Members of the board and city council will urge that the $71,000 be used to establish two additional junior high schools in the eastern and western sections of the country.

The board of education and the bond commission fail to concur in this position, and the conference will be held to iron out differences.

Members of the board and city council will urge that the $71,000 be used to establish two additional junior high school units, and declared that council's objection to completion of the units without slashing about $71,000 in addition from the contemplated plans would be removed if the fund were provided.

EAST POINT SCHOOL CONTRACT AWARDED

The Fulton county board of education Tuesday night awarded the contract for the new Russell Smith High school in East Point to W. T. Francis for a consideration of $90,547. The new high school will be an enlargement of the present Russell Smith High school.

Enlargement of the school was necessitated, County School Superintendent Jere A. Wells pointed out, because of the consolidation of the high schools in East Point. The new school will be built on the county system. The new school will accommodate 900 pupils and will be one of the most modern in the south.

WHEN KIDNEYS HURT DRINK MORE WATER

The American men and women are not particularly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladders, kidneys and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps, let your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to urinate two or three times during the night; if you suffer with side headaches, dizzy motions, sickly, aching stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Satis. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will be in top condition.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate the clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer act soothly, and thus often relieve kidney disorders.

Jad Satis is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delicious effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. (adv.)

Don't Keep on Coughing—Stop It!

Mrs. W. P. Smith

Macon, Ga.—"I caught cold and developed a severe cough, but would be much worse at night. Some nights I could not cough for half an hour, and would be all tired out when morning came. I grew thin, weak and nervous, and was in very poor health when I began taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, but by the time I had taken four bottles I was feeling much better. The coughing and cough, and the nervousness had disappeared. I grew well and strong, have never had another spell of the kind since."—Mrs. W. P. Smith, 114 Duncan Ave.

Erlanger.

The New York Theatre Guild Reporters complete from the Guild the New York, will appear at the Erlanger theater this afternoon in "Mr. Pin Passes By," the famous comedy by A. A. Milne. It is the deepest and most fascinating comedy of the year. As produced by the Theatre Guild, it is a faultless entertainment. Masterfully constructed, shaded with delicate but sure strokes, its keen humor is always gentle. Seats for remaining performances may be had at the Erlanger box office and at Phillips & Crew Piano company.

Keith's Georgia.

Keith's Georgia audiences are certainly screaming this week at the antics of Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton, who have one of the best comedy pictures of their careers. Wife Savers is a picture that the audience takes place along the Swiss frontier, beginning with the signing of the armistice of the late war. The film is one continuous laugh and a worthy successor to "Behind the Front." Alamo No. 2, today.

"By Whose Hand?" the baffling mystery drama produced by Columbia Pictures plays at Alamo No. 2, today only. This story of mystery, romance and adventure in the realms of society, complete with swift action and unexpected eliminations. One of the outstanding scenes is that of the weird disappearance of a wealthy widow's jewels.

Capitol.

With one of the most entertaining bills of vaudeville that a local stage has held in the long while, the Capitol theater this week is offering a superproduction from the Universal studios in Hollywood, "Love Me and the World Is Mine," which is acclaimed as the best picture made by this great company. The picture is a real pageant, a complete comedy, with comedy, drama and romance, with a large cast of stars, including Wallace Beery, Raymond Hatton, Esther Ralston, in "Figures Don't Lie," will be the feature Thursday and Friday.

The season's brightest and gayest colored musical revue has been booked for the 81 theater for Friday night at a record price of $10.00 per person only when "Desires of 1928" makes its appearance and Manager Tom Bailey has been given definite assurance that this is one of the speediest and best colored shows in the country. The company is headed by Salem T. White, a record holder in the Ruta, and the marvelous dancing act of Ethel Parker and Fred Bab, assisted by the Philippines sextette. The Loew feature picture is the long expected hit, "The Enemy," with Lillian Gish.

Howard.

"Chicago," the picture that has been heralded by many critics as one of the outstanding dramatic productions of the current season, is the seven attraction of the Howard theater this week. This picture is said to have more than pleased the capacity audiences that have already seen it.

"Flyin' High" is the fast-moving Public stage show for the week. In this production Ray Teal and the Howard team will be the stars.

Los Angeles $140,000.

Honolulu, February 21.—(AP)—A sum of $140,000 through a race track confidence game has been reported to the police by Thomas Needham, 72, of Lancaster Gate, London.

The season's brightest and gayest colored musical revue has been booked for the 81 theater for Friday night at a record price of $10.00 per person only when "Desires of 1928" makes its appearance and Manager Tom Bailey has been given definite assurance that this is one of the speediest and best colored shows in the country. The company is headed by Salem T. White, a record holder in the Ruta, and the marvelous dancing act of Ethel Parker and Fred Bab, assisted by the Philippines sextette. The Loew feature picture is the long expected hit, "The Enemy," with Lillian Gish.

Howard.

"Chicago," the picture that has been heralded by many critics as one of the outstanding dramatic productions of the current season, is the seven attraction of the Howard theater this week. This picture is said to have more than pleased the capacity audiences that have already seen it.

"Flyin' High" is the fast-moving Public stage show for the week. In this production Ray Teal and the Howard

team will be the stars.

Purser Lost to Tarheels for Turney; Dodderer to Play

Ankle Injury Keeps Center Out of Meet

Officials at Chapel Hill Say Purser May Not Make Trip to Atlanta.

BY BEN COTHRAN.

Bad luck seems to be the lot of those terrible Tarheels of North Carolina these days. Sailing smoothly along with a spanking breeze behind them, the lads of Tarheelia run square into a small Wall Street night in the form of Wake Forest and a basketball game.

When check was made of the damage it was found that Carr Purser, lanky center, had broken the middle toe of his right foot. He will be limited to a walk which will keep him out of the conference tournament, very probably. The damage, however, is not as bad as some people would have you believe.

Further investigation revealed that Bill Dodderer, the south's host in things of guarding on somebody's basketball team, was not out, and will be very much on hand when the tournament begins here Friday afternoon.

The above information was gathered by The Constitution Tuesday night over long-distance telephone from officials at Chapel Hill.

Collision.

Tarheels and Wake Forest were engaged in one of these hurry, scurry, slam-bang affairs such as a Teen-Georgia game, and play was rather rough. Dodderer and Purser, while going about their regular duties on the floor, each collided violently with Wake Forest players. Thus the injuries.

Purser is certain to be out of the first game, as he is now resting comfortably with his foot propped up in a chair and his ankle approaching in size that of a basketball. He said Tuesday night that he may not accompany the team to Atlanta, which will reach here some time Thursday.

Those closely connected with the basketball business at Chapel Hill were of the opinion Tuesday that if either of the two had to be lost, "wee best" that Purser should be the one to go.

Player Valuable.

Purser, of course, is a very good center, and a valuable man on any basketball team. His play this season has been consistent and better-than-average. But Jim Ashmore, who coaches the Tarheels, has a man to take his place, and that man is Satterfield, who has replaced Purser on one or two occasions this year.

He will be sent in at center in the tournament games, leaving vacant his forward position, where he has been most of the year. Eddie Higgs, Hackney, whose brother, Bunn Hackney, you may remember, is at Satterfield in place of the departed Vanstory.

Bill Dodderer is considered by many the best man Jim Ashmore has in his squad. Sating on the bench, he is in form like that of the Tarheels is saying much at one time.

But, nevertheless, they say it. Dodderer, you know, has been picked for all-southern position three times at three different conferences. He was one of the last of the conference athletes to come out of the old four-year rule and thus is playing his fourth year with North Carolina. And the boys up at Chapel aver that he will be picked for all-southern again.

Aid.

Dodderer and Purser have been great help to the Tarheels this season while the Chapel Hill team was winning its own 18 games losing only one to Tulane by a score of 22-21. Since that time Tulane has been defeated twice by the Tarheels, once by such an overwhelming score as 34 to 8. Georgia, Virginia and N. C. State, among others, have kow-towed to the Tarheels in all their parts, to the chagrin of Dodderer and Purser.

So Purser's loss will be keenly felt. And a slight pall of gloom has fallen over the North Carolina campus, where talk has been heard all during this basketball season of another conference championship of Atlanta coming to Chapel Hill, where to compete with several others. But the supporters haven't dried up. The North Carolina bunch still may be called those terrible Tarheels, and they will be a determined bunch.

L. S. U. playing North Carolina in the opener, has been cause of some alarm and consternation. For the bayou Tigers have overwhelmed Tulane twice this season. That game will be a hard one, sure enough. But the Tarheels should pull through.

Real Sportsmen.

There's something glorious about this thing of pushing a piece of machinery over the sand at something over 200 miles per hour. Two hundred miles per hour! That's something like three and one-third miles per minute. From this office to Pershing Point apartments in 60 seconds. If you don't think that's fast, just get out on a perfectly smooth surface and run a powerful stock car even as fast as 80 or 85 miles per hour.

That speed of three and one-third miles per minutes is not particularly fast for racing airplanes, but the proposition is vastly different. We are not attempting to cast any reflections on the bravery of the men who sit behind the stick of the ship doing 250 miles per hour, but it is our frank belief that the man driving the car on the ground at 200 m. p. h. is taking the greater risk.

This is not a treatise on the comparative risks in racing ships and autos; it is a tribute to the sportsmanship of the men who will risk their lives on a pebble to establish a record.

Not so long ago Charlie Lindbergh hopped off into the night on an uncharted course and brought himself the greatest fame of this age because he did not stop to reckon the cost to himself. It is the same with these automobile racers who start on the sands to drive 200 miles per hour or faster. They know that if they hit a pebble or shell as large as an egg they have very little chance of living to remember the incident. They know that a tire blown out is very likely to result in their death. They know a score of other things that may happen in that space of a few moments which will result in death or maiming. Are they real sportsmen? Well, rather.

Wherein We Were Wrong.

It is strange how long it takes a supposedly intelligent man to discover that the man playing a game knows more about it than the casual observer.

The man of supposed intelligence referred to in this instance is the writer—which makes the supposition entirely excusable.

The other day this column stated that Joe Stecher would beat Bob Fredricks (more commonly known as Ed "Strangler" Lewis) for the heavyweight wrestling championship of the world.

That same day we ran into Scotty MacDougal, the obstreperous Scot, who has been wrestling for many a year, and he told us we were all wet or words to that immediate effect. We WERE all wet, as the results of the match plainly show, but the lesson is worth something. Scotty had trained with Lewis on two different occasions and he said there was no question about the outcome of the match. Well, he was right and we were wrong—darn it!

True Story.

Often the world of romance goes farther than necessary to find its material for stories. Right in the midst of Atlanta's theater world is a story as really gripping as those appearing on the screens every day. And this story is true.

About one year ago now a red-headed lad was getting his diploma at Georgia Tech after making a name for himself as a grid-iron star. He was undecided just what line of work to follow. He thought of going into the sporting goods business as a clerk, but finally decided to enter the employ of the Universal Theaters corporation and took a job as "general do-all-the-work" at the Fairfax theater, a suburban picture house of small dimensions. A few months later the new Capitol theater opened and he was given the place of assistant manager.

Monday he started in his regime as general manager of the Metropolitan theater and those who know him have no doubt whatever that he will make good. By this time you probably have guessed that our hero is Carter Barron, one of the finest athletes and finest gentlemen we have ever met.

They have a way of doing just that. Work began at 11 o'clock Tuesday night on the special court constructed every year at the auditorium upon which the conference games are played, and it will be finished by Thursday morning. Thursday night Tech High and Vienna, Ga., will meet in a game that promises to be a real battle. Tech High and Vienna are slated for the closing number on the night's program and everyone knows what that means. Tech High has nosed out in the finals of the Cotton States tournament by the Wonder Five and are now trailing by one game in the three-game series played by the two teams. The Smithies will be out for blood this time.

The initial tussle of the evening will get under way at 8:30 o'clock. Work on the new court for the southern conference tourney started last night and is expected to be completed late today.

The tournament will be played Tuesday, Friday and Saturday, the day to be crowned on the latter day.

Scene of the tournament will be the court at the Russell High school gymnasium, which can comfortably accommodate all those desirous of watching the high school quints play. The committee in charge of the tournament consists of M. C. Bishop, Russell High, chairman; W. O. Cheney, Tech High, and M. E. Smith, Chamblee.

A large silver loving cup, donated by Walthour and Hood, of Atlanta, will be awarded the winner.

FAIRING FOR REST ON THURSDAY. Stone Mountain vs. Avondale, 2 p. m.; Tech High vs. College Park, 3 p. m.; Chamblee vs. Atlanta, 4 p. m.; Fulton vs. Commercial, 5 p. m.; Lithonia vs. Clarkston, 6:30 p. m.; DeKalb vs. Conyers, 9:30 p. m.

S.I.A.A.Takes Jewish Fives Mississippi U. Meet Tonight Off 'Blacklist'

Action Brings Long Controversy Between Body and S. I. C. to an End.

Lexington, Ky., February 21.—(P)

The Jewish basketball championship of the south will be the issue involved on the Jewish Progressive club court on South Prior street tonight when the J. C. take on the Young Men's Hebrew association team of Birmingham, beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

Both these teams point for this meeting, which has been the cause of a letter from Dr. J. W. Provine, president of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic association, revealing that the S. I. A. A. had needed to the demands of the southern conference. The conference had voted that none of members could schedule games with members of the association until that body's members ceased to refuse to have any relations with the University.

Dr. Provine announced that the members of the association's executive committee had voted to reinstate "Ole Miss" among colleges with which its members could schedule games. This meant Dr. Funkhouser explained, that the ultimatum of the conference had been met satisfactorily and that the test would be arranged between members of the two organizations.

"Ole Miss" was "blacklisted" two years ago by the S. I. A. A. because of the alleged playing of a professional baseball pitcher on a University of Mississippi team. A conference investigation resulted in the charge being dropped.

The action of the conference in voting that none of its members should schedule games with members of the association until the association members ceased refusing games to the S. I. A. A. had been taken at a meeting of the Southern conference here last December. University of Mississippi officials appeared before the conference in open session and explained what was termed the "humiliations" to which they were being subjected by the S. I. A. A.

Provine's Letter.

Dr. Funkhouser and Dr. Provine met last evening and conferred on the matter of reinstating Mississippi to the list of colleges with which association members could schedule games.

Dr. Provine's letter said:

"We have just received the vote of our executive committee on the question of reinstating the University of Mississippi from the 'black list' of the S. I. A. A. of this decision and thank you to do likewise for the S. C."

The controversy began over the question of eligibility of a player.

your investigation, they feel that we could not ask more of the conference than you have given us, and accordingly voted ordering the ban lifted. I am notifying all member colleges of the S. I. A. A. of this decision and the action of the conference.

JUGGERNAUT

By Alice Campbell

SYNOPSIS.

Esther Howe, a young nurse, having accompanied an invalid from the United States to Cannes on the Riviera is about to return to New York when she sees an advertisement in the paper for a nurse and doctor's assistant and she decides to apply for the job in order to spend a little time in Cannes.

While waiting for an answer to her application to Dr. Sartorius Esther treats herself to tea in the fashionable Restaurant des Ambassadeurs. She becomes interested in the conversation of a beautiful French woman and her escort, an Englishman, who sit at the next table. On returning to her hotel Esther finds a note from the doctor asking her to report in the morning.

The beautiful French woman of the restaurant comes to see Dr. Sartorius and Esther learns that she is Lady Clifford. A few days later her husband, Sir Charles Clifford, is stricken with typhoid fever and Dr. Sartorius gives up his practice and laboratory work to devote himself exclusively to Sir Charles. Esther is taken on the case as day nurse. Roger Clifford, Sir Charles' only son, arrives in Cannes.

INSTALLMENT XXI.

A THORN IN THE FLESH.

Roger sank upon the Chesterfield sofa and pushed his hair back from his forehead.

"Why? I can't tell you. Because I suppose you must realize that Therese isn't fond of me."

"But even so, it's so—so stupid! You were sure to hear about your father sooner or later."

"Yes. I should think she merely meant to postpone it a little. I have figured it out like this: She dislikes to have me here, so she omitted to send that cable in order to put off my knowing the old man was ill. Not hearing from me, in a few days you'd be back again. Then I would write back to ask if there was any necessity of my coming over, she would show the message to father, knowing perfectly well he would insist on my staying to finish up the business. She knows he would have to be in the last extremity before he'd be willing for me to quit in the middle of a big job. In the end the chances were I'd not have to come at all. Do you see?"

His aunt picked up the comb again and carefully smoothed her front hair. "It sounds very complicated. Do you suppose she reasoned all that out and was prepared to take so much trouble to keep you away?"

"I do," he said simply, and lit a cigarette.

"It's hard to believe, I think you must be wrong. And yet . . . Roger, why is it Therese dislikes you?"

"Ask me another," he replied lightly with a shrug of the shoulders.

"You've quarreled?"

"Oh, no, certainly not."

"You've never quarreled?"

He had no intention of revealing that hidden episode. After a moment, seeing the troubled look on his aunt's face, he put his arm around her ample waist.

"I'm sorry I mentioned the beastly matter, Dido, honestly I am! I don't attach too much importance to what I've said. We all have our little peculiarities, and I just happened to stumble on one of Therese's that's all. She doesn't mean any harm, it isn't pleasant for her to have me here. Stand up and let me look at you. You do look nice, you know. Is that a new gown?"

It evidently was, as her frank pleasure showed, she had put it on for his benefit.

"Don't!" commanded her nephew quickly. "She can only say one or two things—either that she simply forgot it, or gave it to Thompson to attend to, or else she'll swear by all that's holy that she did send it, and blame the cable office. In either event we shan't believe her, and the result will create an unpleasant atmosphere. Better let it drop."

"I suppose you're right," sighed his aunt, "only it makes me uncomfortable to think anyone can want to deceive."

"It would make us both much more uncomfortable to have Therese in one of her sulky moods, especially while there are strangers in the house. I don't care about that doctor chap, he doesn't appear very sensitive, but that little day nurse, for instance—"

"She is nice, isn't she? Of course she is a lady, I realized that the moment I saw her. I recall now that she was in the room when I told Therese you were coming, and although she made no sign I'm sure she noticed how upset Therese was. I felt humiliated."

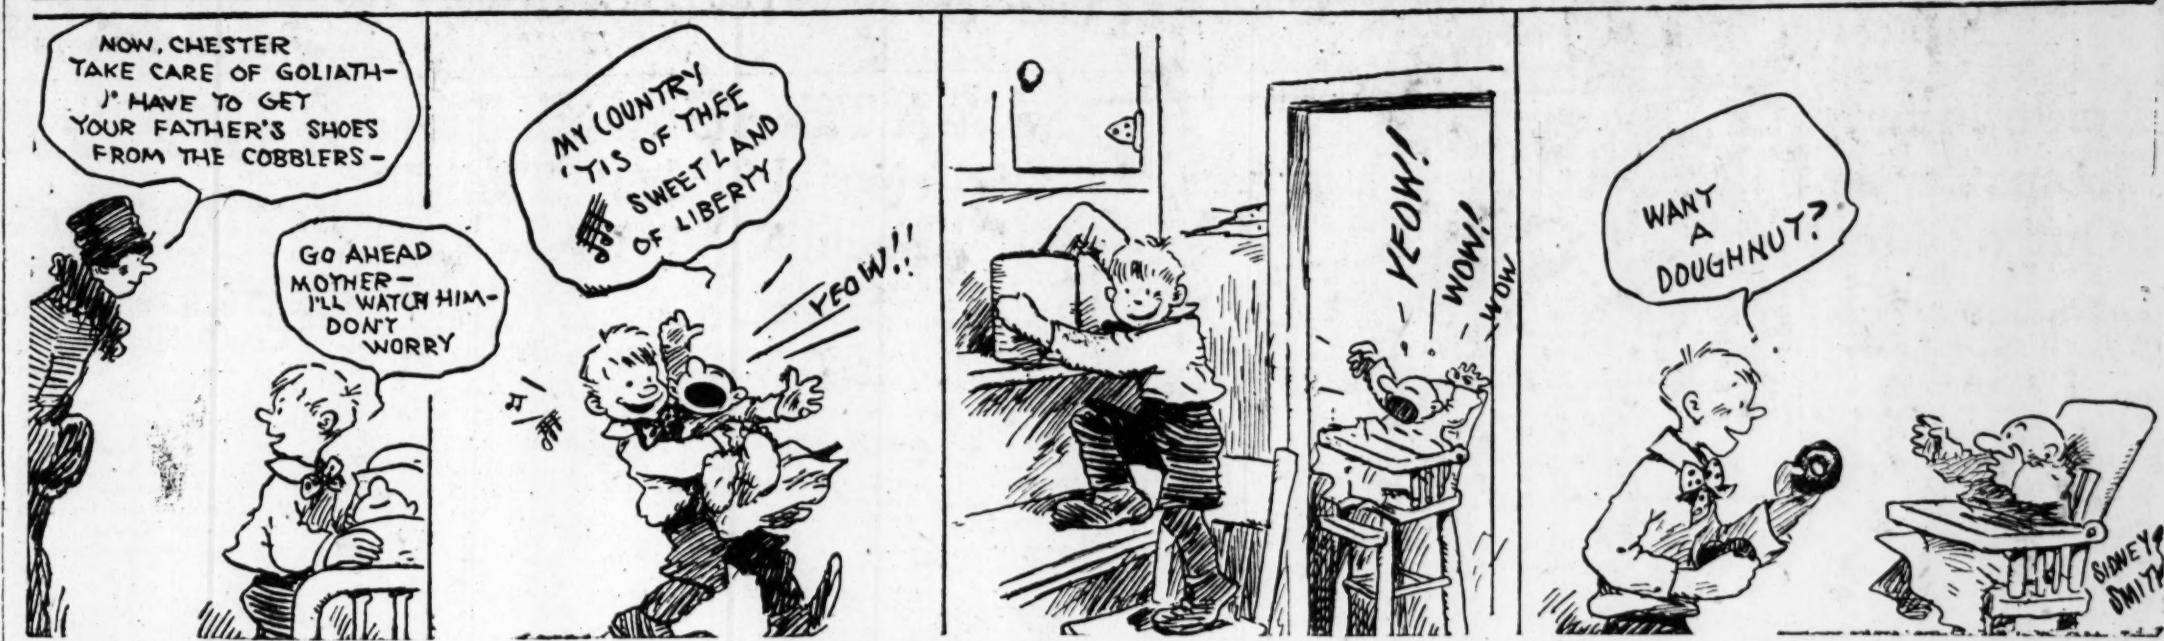

"Oh, so Therese was upset, was she?" mused Roger, pondering this Country, State, Church Afford Sources of Interest Today

February 22 is a red letter day indeed. It recalls in glowing colors the dignity and the grandeur of country, state and church. With its advent into the scheme of things Atlanta will honor the birthday of the foremost figure in American history, George Washington, father of his country, "first in war, first in peace, first in the hearts of his countrymen." Hatchets, high hats and cherries will find their way into the informal dinner party and the brilliant celebration. The story of the little boy "who could not tell a lie" will evoke anew the courage of impressionable youth who are ever responsive to tales of George Washington.

Coincident with the festive note of the day is the more somber one which will linger throughout the 40 days of Lent. Ash Wednesday has come. This memorable day in the calendar of the church year is observed by hooding throughout the city.

The state is not to be forgotten. Georgia's beloved poet laureate, the late Frank L. Stanton, was born on February 22. This day affords an opportunity to those remembering him as one of the sweetest singers that the state and the south have ever known to honor his memory and his lofty aim.

Women's Bible Class Gives Colonial Party.

The women's Bible class of Ponce de Leon Avenue Methodist Sunday school entertained the men's Bible class Tuesday evening with a colonial party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Dunkin in Midtown. The hostess, a young woman in colonial attire, A number of the guests were attractive colonial or other old fashioned dresses. Mrs. Telford Williford's costume represented in detail the dress of a little girl of 1830; Mrs. J. R. Van Pelt wore her wedding gown of white silk, made with long skirt and train. She displayed not a little of the girlish grace with which she wore it. 32 years ago Miss Ellen Warren, daughter of Bishop Warren.

A "Who's Who" contest, in which old photographs of those present were displayed, aroused much interest. Mrs. Miller Meyer excelled in the number of pictures correctly guessed and was rewarded with a box of candy. A Biblical alphabet was used and the spelling match and unsewed much enjoyment. The officers of the women's Bible class are: Teacher, Mrs. Dunnigan; president, Mrs. R. S. King; secretary, Mrs. A. R. Hambrick; treasurer, Mrs. C. E. Moore.

Clubwomen Honored At Art Museum.

Mrs. J. R. Little, fine arts chairman for the Atlanta federation, arranged the program featuring the initial opening of the High Museum of Art, to Georgia. Mrs. Mrs. Margaret Moore, federation president, addressed the gathering, speaking in behalf of federated clubs in appreciation of Mrs. Joseph M. High, gracious donor of the museum to Atlanta.

Nobody Loves a Skinny Woman!
Gain pounds of weight and strength in 3 weeks with new YEAST and IRON—or pay nothing

Get a Lovely Skin for an Ugly One

"Gained 20 Pounds!"

"When I started taking Ironized Yeast, I weighed only 90 pounds and I could hardly drag myself around. Today I weigh 110 pounds and I feel great! I'm so happy now, I say 'I'—Mrs. C. S., Hattiesburg, Miss.

Folks are amazed at Ironized Yeast. They see 6 to 15 pounds gained in 3 weeks! Skinny limbs covered with rounded, graceful flesh! Ugly bellows in shoulders filled up! Eyes sparkling with health! They ask—how does Ironized Yeast work so quickly?

How Ironized Yeast Builds Quick Flesh and Health

Ironized Yeast is two tonics in one—weight building Yeast and strengthening Iron. The yeast is the same used in making malt, and was taken by the ancients as a health food. It is specially cultured yeast, and is saturated to the utmost in flesh-producing value.

This Yeast is treated with pure, vegetable iron, the same as in spinach, lettuce and celery. In this form Iron is easily assimilated by the body, making rich, red blood and tone throughout the system.

Only when Yeast is Ironized in this way is it more effective—for Iron is needed to bring out the weight-building, strengthening values of Yeast. By this special formula Ironized Yeast is half the time required by yeast or iron taken separately.

If you are underweight, nervous or tired, you need Ironized Yeast. Start it today. It does not cause gas or bloating. Safe for everybody—containing no harmful drugs. Pleasant-tasting tablets in a handy bottle.

Try it on "Money Back" Offer
Go today to any drug store and get a full size treatment of Ironized Yeast. If not satisfied, get your money back. If you want to buy from us, send $1.00 direct to the Ironized Yeast Co., Atlanta, Ga. Check 26-A.

CAUTION! While the amazing health-building value of IRONIZED YEAST tables has been positively demonstrated in cases of lack of energy, indigestion, constipation, nervousness, etc., and in cases of general physical and mental condition, IRONIZED YEAST should not be used by anyone who is subject to having weight increased to normal.—©1927—L. Atlanta Girl Receive Honor At Brenau Gainesville, Ga., February 21.—Miss Mary Helen Forrest, of Atlanta, received one of the greatest honors that Brenau college at Gainesville can confer when she was recently elected to Phi Beta Sigma, honorary literary society. The requirements for election are scholarship, loyalty to the institution and ideals of the institution, participation in the college activities, initiative, personal force and character. The members are elected by the faculty from the junior and senior classes. Miss Forrest is one of six girls chosen. The others are: Miss Valvona McMahan, Mrs. Cornelia, Ga.; Miss Louise Hamblen, of Blairsville, Ga.; Miss Annie Grace Scroggs and Miss Julia Lilly, of Gainesville, Ga., and Miss Audrey Tatum, of Gainesville, Miss. It has been the aim of the faculty in regard to the honor society to make of its members an aristocracy of culture, and through the 18 years of its existence this ideal has been kept.

Miss Forrest was also conferred with another honor upon her election as "most outstanding" in the recent college popularity contest. She takes part in many phases of campus life.

RADIO-ING

The Air Waves.

BY WILL SMITH.

Let's take a look at the personnel of the federal radio commission. From whence did these men who control the destiny of radio broadcasting come; what was their life work before their appointment?

O. H. Caldwell, of New York, is the only member of the commission who is an engineer. Commissioner Sam Pickard, of Kansas, has managed and operated a radio station. Commissioner Eugene Squires, of Jackson, Miss., is an attorney. Harold L. Pount, of Salt Lake City, Utah, is a business man.

The rapid increase in the demand for air channels is emphasizing the need for a technical staff to work with the commission, radio men have repeatedly asserted.

The radio division of the department of commerce cooperates with the commission in supervising stations, but this work engages the entire attention and time of the supervisors and there is no direct contact with the radio commission.

New York, February 21.—(P) An early advance in the cotton market, day on reports of higher markets abroad, was followed by declines. May contracts sold off from 18.40 to 18.17 and closed at 18.23, the general market being steady at declines of 3 to 9 points.

Private cables attributed the relatively steady showing of Liverpool to continental buying and trade calling an improved spot demand and consumption of cotton contracts. Other cables said the advance in Egyptian cotton was due to Alexian buying on bullish crop news from West Africa. One of the private cables said the Alexandria advance was due to rumors that picking in the Sudan had been delayed by a fever epidemic.

March sold up to 18.20 and October to 18.26 on this initial buying, but to 18.28 on the initial buying, and the market later eased under further near month liquidation.

Exports for the day 11,988, making 5,110,141 so far this season. Port receipts 15,325. United States port stocks 2,155,518.

The Day in Finance

BY R. L. BARNUM

Brokers' loans to show decrease—shorts still hold day's interest—greater advance predicted—continued reduction meeting holds attention—U. S. controls bulk of gold.

New York, February 21.—With tomorrow a holiday, the weekly brokers' loans statement will be made up for the week ending today instead of Wednesday, as usual. Wall street attention to the statement, which will be published Tuesday after the close of the stock market, to show the federal reserve system actual ratio of 75 per cent gold to deposits appears to be deflation.

If deflation exists at the present time and we could lose as much as $2,250,000,000 gold without encroaching on reserves the question will be asked by many, why is it then that the federal reserve banks recently advanced their rediscount rate for the time it is generally believed, of bringing about inflation in brokers' loans? The answer is that stock prices and brokers' loans are inflated, which means that we could not lose anything like the gold mentioned above without making serious trouble. Treasury and department of commerce experts and the stock market with tomorrow a holiday will cause many holders of long stocks to get rid of some of their nonessence.

The market is a very large short interest outstanding in the stock market.

The position of this short interest was not helped by today's rise in stock prices. It would not be surprising if the recovery in the stock market went further. Those in Wall street's short market opinion is highly valued, however, are of the opinion that it will not be a question of time until short covering runs its course, followed perhaps by a period of inactivity and then further readjustment downward of brokers' loans.

In brief, the best speculative viewpoint the stock market has is that the brokers' loans and the general trade situation change is a sale on rallies.

Goodyear Doubles Earnings.

Phillips Petroleum recovered from short covering on the overnight news that the company's dividend had been reduced from 50¢ to 25¢ a share.

Usually well-informed men here in Wall street, would not be surprised to see this dividend passed at the next quarterly meeting.

Goodyear Tire and Rubber had a very good 1927 despite developments in the tire trade. For 1927 no less than $30,000,000 was earned for the common stock against $3,78 for 1926. Wall street expects the company to resume dividend payments this year unless there should be heavy losses incurred as a result of the recent slump in crude rubber prices.

Atchison, Chesapeake and Ohio, New York Central, Union Pacific and other standard dividend paying railroads were up from one to two points or more on good buying. Unlike the industrials there is practically no outstanding short interest in the rails.

Wall street is interested in the outcome of the meetings being held at Mason, Miss., by the representatives of 11 railroads to reach an agreement to control costs and reduce rates. The meeting, at which S. S. K. was destroyed together with $29,000 stock of general merchandise, will be held at an early date, according to Mr. Saul.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Montana Territory—1864.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

AFTER THE DISCOVERY OF GOLD IN COLORADO (1858), AN ARMY OF PROSPECTORS PENETRATED 600 MILES TO THE NORTHWEST ALONG THE EASTERN SLOPE OF THE ROCKIES INTO WHAT IS NOW THE STATE OF MONTANA. IT WAS A WILD, RUGGED REIGN, UNPASSED FOR SCENIC BEAUTY, AND THE HAUNT OF THE GRIZZLY AND THE WOLF.

THE FORTUNE HUNTERS WERE REWARDED IN THEIR SEARCH FOR GOLD. MANY VALUABLE DEPOSITS WERE LOCATED AND MINES SUNK. ONE MINE, THE ALDER GULCH, YIELDED GOLD WORTH TWENTY-FIVE MILLION DOLLARS IN THREE YEARS.

'DRY RAIDERS' REFUSED ACQUITAL IN SEA KILLING

Miami, Fla., February 21.—(AP)—Denied an instructed verdict after the state closed its case this afternoon, Norman J. Morrison, assistant United States attorney general, defending five coast guardmen on trial in federal court charged with the killing of a negro in connection with the killing of "Red" W. H. Brown.

After a two-hour trial, the jury, which had been out for two hours, followed closely the events of the collapse of the Illinois conference at Chicago which was abandoned with no future meeting scheduled.

TENNESSEE TOWN READY TO HONOR NEGRO PHYSICIAN

Memphis, Tenn., February 21.—(AP)—A negro country doctor will come to town tomorrow to hear himself acclaimed a hero and incidentally be presented with a $100 watch.

When four men stopped at the office of Dr. J. E. Hart, near West Memphis, Ark., yesterday to have one of them admitted to a hospital, the enlisting men, Orie Meekins, B. C. Smith, Edward McAuliff and Paul S. Austin, on the ground that they had no choice but to carry out Shaw's orders; and for Austin alone on the contention that the state's evidence quoted in court as saying his shots were fired in the air.

Shot in Sea Chase.

Shaw was mortally wounded soon after sundown February 24, 1926, as the coast guard boat commanded by Shaw pursued his liquor-laden speed boat in the harbor basin of the Flamingo hotel and through the men's yacht basin. They were indicted in state court, after which the case was transferred to federal court when the government took up the defense.

Meekins, called to the stand after Shaw's testimony was concluded, corroborated his superior in every detail.

FARMER SLAYS NEIGHBOR, THEN SHOOTS HIMSELF

Chattanooga, Tenn., February 21.—(AP)—Luther Baier, 45, farmer living near Ooltewah, in the northern part of this county, met Arthur Boyd, 30, a neighbor who operates a store on the highway near their home, this afternoon and shot him to death.

Baier then fired a bullet through his own head, dying at 9 o'clock tonight. Stories told by neighbors confirmed the tale to the effect that Baier's two daughters had recently left home and he placed the blame on Boyd.
